NEWTON AVIATORS

Many Men From This City in This Branch of

There is to be an exhibition of official French aerial pictures and nine reels of thrilling aerial motion pictures by Lieut. Henry Farre at Horti-ultural Hall, Boston, from December to 16th from 11 A.M. to 10 P.M. The proceeds go to aid the orphans of French aviators.

In honor of Newton's having so many aviators in the service, the Massachusetts Branch of the National Aeronautical Society under whose aubices the pictures are to be exhibited, is to have a Newton Day, Sunday, December 15, with Newton women in harge. The speaker will be announced later.

The Newton Committee in charge of his exhibition has compiled the fol-owing list of aviators from this city.

PLUMBERS GET TOGETHER

The master plumbers of Newton and vicinity have arranged for a Get Together meeting to be held this evening at 7.30 at Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville. The jobbers of Boston are to be entertained, together with their representatives that come through here. Also the officers of the Journeymen's Association will be present. Mayor Childs and the local building commissioner are expected. Daniel F. Carroll, president of the Massachusetts Master Plumbers Association and several members of the executive board of that organization, are to be there. John E. Daniels is to lead community singing, and John Adams Loud will a play the plano. Several tenor solos will be given by Mr. Daniels. A very jolly social time is expected.

COMMUNITY SING

The second of the Community sings conducted by the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held Wednesday night and it was very successful. About 500 people gathered and sang the war songs and old songs with enthusiasm, and then there were some Christmas carols. It demonstrated that the people give getting together to sing ple enjoy getting together to sing these favorite airs.

The singing was led by John E. Daniels, with paino, drum and cornet. The sings have been conducted by the war service committee of the Woman's civilization greater and humanity nobler.

The success of this campaign in Newton reflects glory on every worker, every captain, every chairman, the Victory Girls, the Victory Boys, and on the thousands of contributors who laid aside racial and religious distinctions to join in swelling this great chorus for the safety of the world.

For the Committee,

Figures just obtainable from the fourth Liberty Loan show that New-four, with 151 per cent, stands second in all the towns in Greater Boston in the amount in excess of its quota; Winthrop, with 182 per cent, being first. In the amount raised, Newton with $8,343,400 is also second, Cambridge with $8,800,850 being first.

Brookline with $8,059,850 being third.

aration for the homecoming of the soldiers and sailors.

In the afternoon a house-to-house visitation was made, covering the entire parish, which includes families all the way from the Back Bay to Weston. The men of the parish went out in automobiles two by two, carrying into every family in the parish the little pamphlet distributed by the Bishop, containing daily Bible readings, prayers, and a page of pledges which the people are asked to sign and keep.

Before these messengers went out, there was a meeting for instruction, at which suggestions were made as to how these messages should be delivered, and how different kinds of people ought to be approached. The messengers reported that they met with a hearty response in all cases.

In the evening a parish Plattsburgh was held, followed by a patriotic meeting, when Mr. Sullivan delivered an address on "Setting the watch, Foch the sword of God, and watchman on the Rhine."

The Girl Scout movement is growing rapidly in Newton, and more leaders are very much needed. It is very much hoped that any young women interested in this splendid work will join the class and thus qualify to become an officer in one of the five troops already in existence in the city, or in one of those to be organized.

The course will include military drill, semaphore, wigwag, tender and second class Scout work, and talks on scouting, hiking, games, leadership, etc. Vigitors will be welcome.

ALDERMEN MEET

John T. Burns was granted an auc-matter.

John T. Burns was granted an auctioneer license, and petitions were received from J. J. Cady for an express license; the Garden City Garage for 2 automobile licenses; Avery L. Rand threatened suit in case a drain was not constructed on Furber lane, and Lilian M. Matthews complained about the discontinuance of the Newton Centre-Newtonville street car line.

Leave to withdraw was granted on petitions for abatement of betterments assessed on Brewster and Carver roads and on request for change of ward lines between Waban and Lower Falls. Betterment assessments were levied on abuttors on Ricker and Kent roads, the Mayor authorized to make release of certain lands at Boylston and Parker streets and to petition the legislature for regulation of billboards. Allerman Forknall also persuaded the board to vote $896 for concrete ridewalks and curbing of Chapel street although the matter was turned down early in the falk.

Alderman Blake introduced two resolutions of more or less interest and value, the first being an invitation for olutions of more or less interest and value, the first being an invitation for the pupils and teachers of the Newton High Schools to attend and draw such

IN THE CASUALTY LISTS

The principal feature of the meeting of the aldermen on Monday evening was the recommendation of the Buildings Commissioner that $56,300 would be necessary to make the changes in the various school buildings of the city to meet the requirements of the state police. The matter was referred for investigation. Every member but Alderman Clark was present and the session was short and uneventful.

Mayor Childs sent in requests for $516,43 for police pension for Charles. T. Bartlett, and $30 for a drain in Furber lane, both of which were granted. He also asked for $8800 additional for water department, of which $2900 was voted, for $1500 for Mothers' Aid, of which $500 was granted, and for $2000 additional for public buildings, and $125 for maintenance of quarters used by the draft board, which were referred.

Mayor Childs also sent in a communication in regard to removing the conditions recently placed on a contribution to the operating expenses of the Middlesex & Boston Railway, saying that only two towns would join with Newton in making such a contribution to the operating expenses of the Middlesex & Boston Railway, saying that only two towns would join with Newton in making such a contribution to the operating expenses of the Middlesex & Boston Railway, saying that only two towns would join with Newton in making such a contribution, and the Mayor adds that in his opinion there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on this line' the Newton-there is 'no other way of having service restored on t

Private Edward Sullivan, Co. C. 101st infantry, reported gassed, is 22 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan of Centre street, Newton Centre. He left Newton High school to enlist.

Second Leiutenant Lewis W. Spaulding of the First Division, 18th infantry, who was severely wounded in the battle of the Marne, July 18-22, was reported back to duty after being two and a half months at a base hospital at Bordeaux. His men were all ready to go over the top one morning, when for some reason the orders were changed, and they remained in dugouts three days under heavy shell fire and gas attacks. Many of his men were lost and being himself blistered with poison gas, he crawled back to the battlaion aid station to get help if possible. Thence he was sent back to a hospital for treatment of his burns. A week later he was again sent back to the front. In a letter home on October 28 he said he hade heen called out of bed and ordered on a special mission. The following day he was promoted to be a first little tenant and assigned to the generalisent back to the front. —The opening meeting of the Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre was held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Brewer on Wednesday afternoon, December 4. After greetings by the new president, Mrs. N. L. Cutler, the entertainment was by home talent, several songs being beautifully sung by Mrs. J. Bergeson, whom the club is always glad of an opportunity to hear. The plano accompaniment was particularly well interpreted by Miss Pillsbury. Then Miss Sylvia Burdett, daughter of a club member, recited in a pleasing manner the interesting selection called "The Money Moon." The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Louis Fitch.

The Invitation.

The Invitation.

Our Country is now thinking in terms of demobilization and the return of the Nation to normal living and working conditions. Much will be expected of the Association, particularly in the work among boys. It has been suggested by the State Y. M. C. A. Committee, Massachusetts and Rhode Island Boys' Work Division, that the Local Association should hold one of the twenty simultaneous conferences on Saturday, December 14th. This day will be observed by calling together the older boys of the Churches as well as the Association for a discussion of their opportunities and responsibilities during the reconstruction period.

The Program:
Theme: "Training for Citizenship." Chairman: Mayor Edwin, O. Childs. 2 P.M. Opening Period of Thanksgiving through song, prayer, and Scripture reading

OL. S. C. on Monday last. As the reading continued the members were particularly impressed with the number of events of the Great War which were forested during Mr. Hay's darker.

Midst.' Three physicians expert in this particular line will address the meeting. Dr. Fitz Talbot will tell of the world-wide movement for saving babies, Dr. Richard M. Smith of what is being done in Massachusetts, aind Dr. Irving J. Fisher of the Baby Clinics in Newton. Demonstrations of the work will be given with the use of real babies. Miss May Bilss Dickinson, founder of the Girls' Health Leagues, will give an exhibit of the work of the leagues. Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon will sing Lullabies of the Nations in costume. As this year has been devoted to a nation-wide movement for saving babies and improving the conditions of the children, this meeting is right in line with the trend of the times and should meet with a hearty response upon the part of the club women. The program will begin promptly as one of the speakers must leave by an early train to meet other engagements.

The Auburndale Woman's Club met on December 3d in the Congregational Chapel. At the business meeting an urgent plea was made for more helpers in the Red Cross Sewing and the French Relief, as there is an immediate need for more refugee garments. Announcement was made of the concert to be given by the club chorus at Lasell on December 23d.

After the business meeting the club enjoyed hearing the chorus sing four "Victory Songs." The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. J. Harry Poole of Brockton, who gave an unusually illuminating talk on "Current Events." She warned her hearers against overestimating the part played by the United States in the War, and asked them not to forget the heroic deeds of France, England, and Belgium. A large part of our share in the War was supplying food and buying Liberty Bonds.

Mrs. Poole explained instructively

Bonds.

Mrs. Poole explained instructively the situation in Turkey, Austria, and the Balkan States preceding the outbreak of the War in 1914. She gave, also, an excellent interpretation of President Wilson's fourteen peace terms, and of the terms of the armistice. She emphasized the necessity of unity of purpose among the Allies at the Peace Conference.

Mrs. Poole closed with the question.

at the Peace Conference.

Mrs. Poole closed with the question,
"Does War Pay," and with the answer, "Not for those who started it, but for those against whom it was waged." War alone was able to give such control of world affairs to the promoters of human brotherhood as is promoters of human brotherhood as is now the privilege of the Allies.

Professor Roy W. Kelly spoke before the Newton Mothers' Club Monday afternoon on "The Re-Education of our Wounded Soldiers." The speaker told of efforts being made to train the men so that they may take their normal places in the world again and among other things stated that some manufactories are even now installing machinery that can be run by men having artificial arms.

At the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon, Mrs. Mabel Crawford discussed current events. The interest of the club in community singing was urged. Notices were given of the coming Newton Federation meeting, of the collection of clothing for the Belgians, and of Conservation Week for World Relief.

Monday's meeting of the Brighthelm-stone Club opened with the singing of "America," led by Mrs. D. B. Ward, with Mrs. C. A. Peavy at the plano. The patriotic song service, which now features the opening of the club meet-ings is in accord with the request of the Music department of the State Federation.

ELLIS MEMORIAL SERVICE

The annual memorial service of Newton Lodge of Elks, held last Sunday afternoon at the Newton Opera House was a most impressive service due largely to the fact that for the first time in its history the lodge mourned the death of some of its own members. The altar was flanked with two burning candles and during the services, after the secretary had called the name of each of the two deceased brothers for three times one of the candles was snuffed out for each name. The lodge assembled at the lodge rooms in Ellot block and marched in a body to the Opera House headed by Tentical Pailor Thomas J. Sullivan and the other officers.

cipline, and high morale, was one of the best that the Old Bay State sent to the front.

This history is not a mere detail of Camp routine, but is a most interesting story told in a charming manner, by the men who marched and fought and won battles to save the Union. The late Secretary of State, the Hon. William N. Olin, said it was one of the most interesting war books he ever read, and it was upon his recommendation that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts purchased five hundred copies for distribution among the Public Libraries of the State. At the time of its publication, the Boston Evening Transcript gave a column notice, gratis and wholly unsolicited, of the book, commending it as a most interesting, unique, and original Regimental History.

The book contains nearly four hundred pages and many illustrations. It to be the state of the bound in available.

dred pages and many illustrations. It is handsomely bound in bevelled boards and will be sent postage pre-paid on receipt of $3.00.

"Walks and Talks about Historic Boston"

"Walks and Talks about Historic Boston"

This book opens with a sketch of John Winthrop, the Founder of Boston, and first Governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Then follow many interesting items of early Colonial life, namely, the Puritan Blue Laws, The Witcheraft Delusion, and Banishment of Roger Williams.

We give pictures of old buildings of Boston, tell of their history and of events that happened within their walls. We tell of the few principal events that led up to the Declaration of Independence, namely, the Stamp Act, the Boston Massacre, the Boston Tea Party, and the Boston Port Bill, also of the Battles of Lexington, Concord, and Bunker Hill.

We show you what an everlasting debt of graptings is due that polyla and clearly showed him on that Springtime day, The door to worlds unknown Before or since. But nay!

Bunker Hill.

We show you what an everlasting debt of gratitude is due that noble and brave band of patriots, Samuel Adams, John Hancock, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Paul Revere, and Dr. Lasenh Warren.

John Hancock, Benjamin Frankin, John Adams, Paul Revere, and Dr. Joseph Warren.

There is an interesting article on the Wisit of Lafayette to America in 1824-5" as the guest of the United States. This should be of especial interest just now, when the whole nation is recounting the valor and generosity of this ardent and gallant young Frenchman who perilled his life and his fortune to advance the cause of Liberty. We recount the wonderful deeds of the "American Navy in the War of 1812," and give an account of the "Anti-Stavery Struggle" and the "Visit of the Prince of Wales to America in 1860." We take you by the arm and show you Faneuit Hall, the Old State House, the Old South, King's Chapel, Christ Church, Park Street Church, Holy Cross Cathedral, Tremont Temple, and Trinity Church, and going down Huntington Avenue to Massachusetts Avenue we point out to you the most imposing and elegant church edifice in Boston, The Mother Church of the Christian Scientists. In short the book is full of interesting matter, not a dull page in it. It contains nearly six hundred pages and one hundred and nine-

Ability of the Aged.

It has often been said that a man cannot learn a new trade after he is forty, but this statement has frequently been disproved. Peter S. RED CROSS DRIVE

Membership Campaign to Begin Next Monday. Plans All Ready for Active Work

Next Monday an active and energetic committee is making plans to enroll every man, woman and child in this city as a member of the American Red Cross. Last year Newton made an enviable record in this respect and with the continued need of the work of this splendid organization in the demobilization of the army and navy and in the necessity of adding the people of Belgium and Northern France to get on their own feet, the people of this city should see to it that the 1917 standard is fully maintained.

In this campaign it isn't the dollars which count, but it is the men and women and children who give a dollar each for a year's membership. Be sure that your whole family is enrolled in this organization which has been truly called the "noblest organization in the world for carrying on the work of aiding and helping those who need to be comforted and cared for."

It is an organization to which men of all creeds are workers. Its membership includes cardinals, bishops, priests, ministers and rabbis. To become a member of the Red Cross one has to pay a yearly membership fee of $1 and the money raised to the sketnut Hill, Randolph Tucker

VERY SMALL VOTE

City Election is Practically Forgotten by Newton Voters

Newton made a low record at the city election on Tuesday when only 515 votes were polled out of a total registration of nearly 8000. This result was due fo the fact that there was but one candidate for all of the offices to be voted upon and with national prohibition so near, there was no interest taken in the license vote. For school committee eight women voted and two of them failed to vote for one of the two candidates. The highest vote in any precinct was in Precinct 1 of ward 6 where 64 votes were cast and Precinct 2 of the same ward was second with 53 votes. It is also interesting to note that precinct 3 of that ward cast the smallest vote, only 5 going to the polls, less than the number of election officers present.

The vote was as follows:

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AID

The first week in December was a banner week for amount of work sent in. At an open meeting in Boston last Friday morning an appeal was made for 53 filled Christmas bags for the boys of the U. S. S. Potomac who last year had no Christmas. The Newton Branch had the bags ready for shipment that afternoon, Other work consisted of 100 pairs of socks, 9 long-sleeve sweaters, 25 filled comfort kits, 27 convalescent robes and 15 filled Christmas bags, all of which, with numerous other articles, knitted and sewed, amounted to 343 pieces. These things were sent to Special Aid Head-quarters, Woman's Seaman's Friend Society and Italian War Relief.

The society has an abundance of wool for helmets, sweaters, gloves, mittens and socks. Many boys, on duty on this side, are in need of outfits, and people are urged to continue knitting. Wool may be obtained at Special Aid Rooms, Y. M. C. A. building.

COPLEY THEATRE.—The Private Secretary" is one of the most popular farces of the current epoch. It has held its celebrity and its vogue for many years on both the English and the American stages, and its coming revival at the Copley Theatre this week is certain to be welcomed by multitudes of playspeers who are fond of genuine fun-making and wholescome emriment in the thatte. It will be acted at the Copley Theatre in the familiar and popular version made and acted by Charles Hawtrey, the emiment English actor. Pleasant words have invariably been the reward of "The Private Secretary" wherever it has been acted, and it has entertained theatre-goers in every civilized country on the globe. Its high quality of himor is everlasting, and it is filled with many catch-phrases that have become household words.

LEADER IN PRINTING TRADE Death of Avery L. Rand, Formerly of Newton Centre

Newton Centre

Avery Lewis Rand, 67, of Cambridge, and for about 52 years a resident of Newton Centre, died Wednesday at his home. He had been in poor health for a number of years. Mr. Rand was junior partner of the Rand-Avery Supply Company, and later head of the Avery L. Rand Company, and for many years was one of the leading printers of New England. At one time he was considered to do the largest printing business of this section. He held important state contracts.

His father was George C. Rand, the founder of the business. The family moved to Newton Centre from Boston when Avery Rand was eight years old, and lived there until they moved to Cambridge a few years ago. Avery Rand attended Newton High school. He served for some time on the Newton school committee, and was also president of the Newton Centre Improvement Association for several years. He was a member of the official board of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, was a member of the Wesleyan Association which publishes cial board of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, was a member of the Wesleyan Association which publishes Zion's Herald, and was a member of the neighbors club of Newton Centre. In 1874 he married Miss Sara Wood of Newton Centre, who survives him with children, Avery L. Rand, Jr., of Toronto, Lieut. Robert S. Rand of the United States Navy, now in London, and Capt. Stuart Rand of the United States Army, now in Washington: Mrs. States Army, now in Washington; Mrs. Leslie Lindsley of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Rachel Bishop of Lansing, Mich., Miss Margaret Rand, a teacher at Lasell seminary, and Miss Winifred Rand, superintendent of the Boston Bables Hy-giene Association. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Mt. Auburn chapel, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. George Spencer, formerly of Newton Centre, as officiating minister.

LIEUTENANT CLAPP MISSING

Lieutenant Howard R. Clapp, reported missing in action, is a West Newton man and was attached to the 22d U. S. Aero Squadron. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clift R. Clapp of 49 Temple street. Lieutenant Clapp was twenty-five years of age and a native of Newton. He prepared for college at the high school and Noble & Greenough's and entering Harvard malive of Newton. He prepared for college at the high school and Noble & Greenough's, and entering Harvard was graduated in the class of '16. He then entered the Law School and during his first year joined the Harvard Regiment. He went to Plattsourg where he remained from May until August, choosing aviation as his work. For his ground training he went to the Institute of Technology, where he remained from August until October 1917, subsequently going to Mineola for his air practice and it was there that he received his commission as first lieutenant December 6. He went overseas January 30 of this year, and was in service both in Italy and France, and was assigned to the 22d Squadron last August. He was reported missing November 2.

DEATH OF LIEUT, LEONARD

First Lieut. Wallace Minot Leonard, Jr., died Wednesday at Camp Sherman, O., of pneumonia. He was 24 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Leonard of Newton Highlands. He entered Amherst, attended the second entered Amherst, attended the second Plattsburgh camp, and was assigned to the marines. He was in very server fighting at Chateau-Thierry, and led the platoon at the head of the charge that captured Bouresches. Only four men of the platoon were left when the charge was over. He was cited for distinguished bravery and received the Distinguished Service order from our army, and the croix de guerre from France. He returned last June and was detailed to serve as instructor at Camp Sherman.

Lieutenant Leonard was married in June, 1917, just before going to Plattsburg, to Miss Dorothy MacLure, daughter of Rev. Laurens MacLure, dughter of Grace Church, Newton, and Mrs. MacLure. He had one brother.

Plumbers Entertain—Discuss After-War Problems

The Master Plumbers of Newton entertained about 60 people on the occasion of their Get Together meeting held at Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville, Friday night. The night was stormy or the attendance would have been even larger. A fine spirit of co-operation was shown. The principal theme of the meeting was "Reconstruction after the War," and getting the business on a firm basis again. The plumbing trades have been greatly disorganized by the war conditions, and various suggestions were made as to how normal conditions could be re-The Master Plumbers of Newton ento how normal conditions could be reand various suggestions were made as to how normal conditions could be restored.

G. Wilbur Thompson presided. John E. Daniels of Newton Centre led community singing of patriotic songs, and John Herman Loud assisted at the piano. Mayor Childs, Building Commissioner Furbush, and Alderman Clark represented the city government, Mr. Clark read a very interesting paper on the relations of employer and employed, which he had read at a national trade meeting. He brought out the idea that there must be better relations after the war between employers and employed, and a fuller co-operation. He drew a parallel between conditions here and in Russia, and he felt that the very bad conditions in that country were largely due to the lack of any good relations between the capitalists and the workers.

It was on Friday that Maurice Coleman, plumbing inspector, was buried, and the occasion was recognized by Mayor Childs, Commissioner Furbush, and the presiding officer. Resolutions testifying to the respect in which Mr. Coleman was held were passed unanimously. Among the speakers were President Carroll of the State Plumbers' Association, and Treasurer Perham of the same organization. Mr. Thompson of the Thompson-Durkee Company brought up the matter of co-operative banks, which he felt were a great help in the development of a community. Mr. E. F. Butler of Newton Centre, who has made a study of plumbing codes and ordinances all over the country, expressed much satisfaction with the existing ordinances now in force in this city, and he claimed there is no better code of plumbing work anywhere than that in force here. The meeting showed a good community spirit, and it was felt it will be helpful to the development.

CHESTER ALBERT JENNESS

CHESTER ALBERT JENNESS

Chester Albert Jenness died from in fluenza and pneumonia Thursday night at the Newton hospital, in the 29th year of his age. He was superintendent of market gardens for the Boston Gardening Company of Waban, and had lived here five years since graduating from the New Hampshire State College. He made his home with his brother Lieut. Cyrus Jenness, with his brother Lieut. Cyrus Jenness, who is now in France with the market garden unit of the American Red Cross. He also leaves six sisters and two other brothers. He was to have been married December 28 to Miss Dorothy Prescott, sister of Mrs. Cyrus Jenness, of Haverhill, Mass. Funeral services will take place at his late home Saturday, December 14, at 12.30, conducted by Rev. Char.es H. Cutler, and the burial will be at Newton cemetery.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Fred Sawyer, 1919, was recently elected chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Newton High Schools. This is quite an honor, for this committee is made up of the three principals, and one teacher, and two seniors from each school.

The orchestra and glee club have organized this year with unusual enthusiasm. The following violinists have been chosen: Charles Laffie, Gertrude Priest, Mary Pucciarrelli, Mary Glover, Edna Tuttle, Ethel Canter, Elsie Dunleavy, Delia Gravil, Kathleen Shaughnessy, and Helena Womboldt. The accompanist has not yet been selected.

CHILD FATALLY BURNED Believed to Have Played with Parlor Stove

A pathetic burning accident occurred Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Annie McMahon, 357 Washington street, when her little son Earle, aged three, received fatal injuries. Mrs. McMahon works at Chase's factory, and left the child as usual locked in the house under supervision of a neighbor.

The fire in some way caught in a heap of clothes near the parlor stove. When the firemen got there they found the room full of smoke. They broke open the door and windows, and learning that there was a child there, Fireman Ed. Herlihy of Hose I entered the smoke filled room and found the child in bed, and took him to the office of Dr. Thomas J. Gallagher.

Mr. Herlihy is entitled to much credit for his act.

The boy was badly burned about the neck, and was taken to the Newton Hospital, where he subsequently died.

The firemen think that the child may have played with the parlor stove and dropped some lighted paper or coals on the clothes so as to start the blaze. Having done something of that kind he apparently ran for the bed. The fire was extinguished before it did much damage to the building.

Mayor Childs passed along as the crowd gathered at the house, and assisted in caring for the child.

The hation-wide Child Conservation movement, which has formed a part of the war program of this year, emanated from Washington from the Federal Children's Bureau, which is directed by Miss Julia Lathrop. First we had a Children's Week, last year a month, while 1918 has been Children's Year. First came the weighing and measuring tests, then the campaign for proper recreation, recognizing the child's right to a normal, happy child-hood, as a preparation for life. The latest phase is directed towards keeping him in school or putting him back there, if the war with its shortage of labor has attracted him into the industrial world. The value of education as fundamental to the successful life needs no defenders in Newton, it would seem, yet may not the clubs or the Ederative may not the clubs or the Ederative may not the clubs or The nation-wide Child Conservation would seem, yet may not the clubs or the Federation render a direct service to the community in finding out the exact conditions in this matter?

The reports of the officers showed good work accomplished and that its opporwork accomplished and that its oppor-tunities for service are limited only by its resources. Miss Sara E. Coates, the recently appointed general secre-tary, presented the annual report pre-pared by the acting secretary, given in another column.

Suplementary to the study of Pan Americanism, which the Social Science Club made last year, there will be four short papers upon some of the countries of Central America and of the work of his board for the West Indies by Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins, Mrs. H. H. Fitts, Mrs. W. H. Capen and Mrs. H. A. Nealley at the monthly meeting of the club on Wednesday morning, December 18.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold their next regular meeting in G. A. R. hall on Thursday, 2 P. M., December 19, having as their guestian Mrs. M. D. Babcock of Dorchester, representing the Crescent Mapleine Co. of Seattle, Washington, a well known speaker, who will demonstrate the products of this company, served in various ways. A full attendance of the members and their friends is desired.

Local Henry of the Eusing secretary, given in another column.

At the conclusion of the business Mr. Robert J. Fuller, of the Federal Board of Vocational Education, told of the work of his board for the Re-habilitation of Disabled Soldiers. He explained that the aim is to advise, to train the men for such positions as they seem able to fill, to place them when qualified and then to follow them up. Each man is considered separately, some history of his life is accupational history, the voice of the Gendral Hongland H would like to do, his personal characteristics and his intellectual attainments.

Mr. Fuller stated that of the major disabilities blindness has not been as serious as might have been expected, there being only about 40 known cases at the present time in this district.

Of the 650 men which have come under surveillance less than 50 have armless or legless disabilities. There are 75 now ready for training, and from 75 to 100 have already been placed. There are a large number who must get well first before anything can be done for them. This work and the board is laying emphasis on the necessity for these men learning to do a normal worker's job and taking their places in the community as normal citizens.

The election of officers resulted in practically the old board being reelected. President, George M. Angier; vice-presidents, Albert P. Carter, Mrs. Betrand E. Taylor; treasurer, John F. Lothrop; clerk, James B. Melcher; directors for three vears, Mrs. George W. Auryansen, Leslie H. Allen, Mrs. William H. Brown, Mrs. Henry H. Carter, Richard B. Carter, Bernard Early, George H. Ellis, Miss Martha Lathe, John F. Lothrop, Joseph B. Jamieson, William H. Rice, Mrs. Betrand E. Taylor, Kenelm Winslow. Mrs. Charles D. Kepner was recently elected a director to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. W. E. Gill.

Newton Federation

Real live babies proved the centre of attraction at the meeting of the Newton Federation at Temple Hall, Newtonville, on Wednesday afternoon. Eight beautiful, bouncing babies accompanied by their mothers served to give a touch of reality to the work of our own Newton Baby Clinics. All had received advice and treatment there and now are such rugged, splendid specimens of babyhood that any mother might well be proud to own them.

Since "The Child in Our Midst" has been the slogan sent from Washington during the past month, it was appropriate that it should form the theme of the afternoon's program.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, the president, opened the subject saying that child conservation is one of the most far-reaching measures growing out of the war, for the child is our hope.

Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon contributed in her charming way a group of primitive lullables of America, an Indian lullaby, a Kentucky Mountain Croon and a Negro Lullaby.

The National Aspect of Child Welfare was presented by Dr. M. E. Champion. He urged that wherever this work is to be undertaken it should be accomplished by co-ordinating already existing agencies rather than by forming some new one to put it through. He dwelt upon the importance of pre-natal care of the mother, referred to the pre-natal letters which the state is issuing for the help of expectant mothers, pointed out that little has so far been done for the health of children from 1 to 5 years of age, the period before they enter school. In this state we have done more for them after that, but much still needs to be done, as also for the handicapped child, and the mentally deficient. The child in industry presents still an-

Philip L. Saltonstall, whose subject was "Infift." The speaker referred to the recent War Savings Stamp drive as Massachusetts' disgrace. We started out to raise $78,000,000 in this way, and the people bought less than $20-10,000,000 worth of the stamps. She said twe were just beginning to understand the first principles of thrift when the war ended.

"American women with their love of luxury and ease had reached a wonderful state, People all over the world marvelled over what we had done, and our slogan now must be the unconditional surrender of everything not construction programs. In discussing work harder than ever. This is the most dangerous time since the war began, for now the big problem of the Martin of the stamps which we club women must help to counteract. Being a woman today entails grave responsibilities."

Mrs. Charles E. Mongon was the next speaker, and she was equally interesting. She spoke on "The Food of Usestion."

Prof. Athur H. Gilmer of Tutts College gave an illustrated lecture before the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands in Lincoin Hall Tuesday evening on "Understanding our learning. She spoke on "The Food the fact now stressed by all speakers, the track of the action.

Dr. Irving J. Fisher told of the Baby Clinics of Newton of which there are four, he first having been established at the West Newton Neighborhood House in July, 1917, and other three in February, 1918, at Twombly House Dispensary, at the Stearns school and at the Newton Hospital Annex at Newton Carlot. The present of the Property of the Pr at the Newton Hospital Annex at Newton Centre. They are in charge of Newton physicians assisted by nurses from the hospital. Each of the exhibition babies was brought to the platform, while Dr. Fisher gave a brief history of each, its weight at birth, its weight when first brought to the Clinic, its present weight and the nature of the feeding prescribed. Mrs. Palmer then told briefly of the work of the Girls' Health Leagues, which are being introduced into many public schools and have received the

BOTTLED HEALTH

Nobscot Spring Water is so pure and soft that to drink it is like drinking bottled health.

Analysis shows residue on evaporation only 3.8 parts per 100,000, and rating for hardness only 1.7 parts per 100,000. That's why Nobscot means better digestion, less rheumatism, for those who drink it.

Newton people will be particularly interested in "My Company," Captain Carroll Swan's recently published account of the experiences in France of the famous 101st Engineers (Yankee Division). Interesting ancedotes are told of two Newton men, Major Porter B. Chase, son of Mrs. E. A. Chase, of 52 Hillside avenue, and Fred Adams, a former Newton High School football player:

In regard to Major Chase, Captain Swan says:

"This date, October 19th, the day we set foot on French soil, was the one hundred and seventy-sixth anniversary of the founding of our organization in Boston. The English officers learned of it and a very pretty ceremony was staged in their officers learned of it and a very pretty ceremony was staged in their officers learned of the outfit for more than twenty years, was our spokesman. He is a man who always does and says the right thing at the right time. Incidentally, I was proud to have succeeded such an onficer as Captain of D Company when he received his well deserved majority. Major Chase traced the history of our regiment and toasted the British, the French, and the Allied cause. The English Colonel replied, as only an eloquent English Colonel can, and well-comed us as brothers in arms. Sus as brothers in arms. We sang Lee patriotic and war songs of both nations and listened to the stiring ages of life at the front with the french, and the Allied cause. Major Chase traced the history of our regiment and toasted the British, the French, and the Allied cause. The English Colonel replied, as only an elequent English Colonel and war songs of both nations and listened to the stirring tales of life at the front, and altogether it was a delightful evening for all of us."

The unselfish consideration shown by Fred Adams for his comrades, even when seriously wounded himself is illustrated in the following description of the bursting of a shell among several squads of soldiers engaged in putting up a barbed-wire system at night in front of the trenches:

"At about two in the morning we had only a hundred yards to go. Corporal Walter (Broxy) Shaw's squad, the 6th, had just leapfrogged over. I gathered them around me like a football team.

"Boys, only one hundred yards more; make it fast. We'll be through in half—"

Whizz—CRASH—BANG!
A shell we had not heard landed squarely in us. We shall never forget that terrible red light, nearly blinding us, and the terrible red say when and I stood up. There down the line were the men, apparently dazed, not knowing why to do. Feeling sure more shells were coming, I yelled:—

"Everybody jump to the trench, quick!"

Just as I arrived at the parapet, I turned and looked back. The smoke was just lifting from that hell-hole.

Just as I arrived at the parapet, I turned and looked back. The smoke was just lifting from that hell-hole. There on the ground were seven or eight of my boys. Turning to the men jumping into the trench, I cried:—

"Who's got the guts to go back there?"

Every man who heard it jumped out and ran back. There was Broxy, the Corporal, dead, the others all wounded, some badly. Every one of those wounded boys refused to be touched until the others had been fixed up. Fred Adams, an old Newton High football player, had his leg shattered. He said:

"Captain, don't bother about me; mine's only slight. Take Jimmy Mullen, he's hit bad. I just feel as if some football feller had kicked me in the shin, and I'll get that feller yet."

Jimmy Mullen protested: "I'm all right; take Jim Lewis."

Johnny Rines was helping to get the men on stretchers when some one whispered: "Captain, Johnny's hit, to."

I went to him while he was working and only knew he was hit because part of his shoulder was gone!

When we got them to the first-aid station, Lewis, who had been hit again by the next shell, refused to be taken in for treatment until every other wounded comrade had been attended to. Afterwards he proved to be the worst of all, with two bad wounds. There's the American soldier for you! God bless him!

In this same vivid way, Captain Swan pictures the daily life of the men of the regiment calling many of them by name—often by a familiar nickname—and describes the little happenings that are of the greatest inter-Book of the best of musical productions which have made the Tremont Theatre— Hemon's faviliary and the Association are the Month of the body of the bard to be taken of the greatest inter-Book of the production of the body of the body of the body of the large file. D. A. R.

Members of the Lucy Jackson Chapter D. A. R. of Newton, enjoyed an allday meeting on Monday, December 9, when they were entertained by Mrs. S. N. Hoag, Mrs. A. C. Hosmer, Mrs. L. H. Howe and Mrs. George Hutchinson at Mrs. Hoag's residence. The morning was spent in sewing on rugs for the chapter house, recently purchased. The, chairman of the house committee, Mrs. Holmes, gave an interesting report on the many gifts which she has received for furnishing the old mansion. Besides antique chairs, old china, pewter and other essential things, she announced that the chapter is fortunate in possessing many valuable documents and books. The members voted to send a Christmas offering to the American International College at Springfield. Mrs. Henry Baetz of Waban, gave a delightful piano recital in the afternoon.

WITHIN recent years the general public has given more attention to the merits of Memorial Art. Those appreciative of designs carefully executed with a view to simplicity and dignity will find that we have achieved these standards of excellence with a staff of craftsmen trained by ourselves.

PATRONS desiring pieces for delivery in the Spring will find it a distinct advantage to confer with us at once as to designs and necessary arrangements.

ALLIES' RELIEF

Interesting Reports Made at Recent Annual Meeting in Newton Centre

The Newton South Allies' Relief Association held its annual meeting on December 6, at Trinity Church parish house, Newton Centre.

parish house, Newton Centre.

The usual work was carried on from 9 A. M. till 12.30, when a Victory 1 uncheon was served. During the luncheon a sufficient collection was taken for the adoption, for a year, of a French war baby. At 2 P. M. about 85 members assembled in the upper hall, and after a few remarks by the president, Mrs. G. M. Stuart, the Rev. E. T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church, gave an address and commended the members upon the work accomplished during the past three years, after which Mr. Sullivan was unanimously voted an honorary member of the Newton South Allies' Relief Association.

Reports were then read by Mrs. H.

lief Association.

Reports were then read by Mrs. H.
E. Williams, secretary, who also gave the report of the surgical dressings; Mrs. H. J. Ide, treasurer, whose report showed that $12,500 had been raised during the year (including pajama department), and $10,700 had been expended; Mrs. James Guiler, draw pads; Mrs. G. H. Norman, slippers; Mrs. A. E. Alvord, pajamas and night jackets; Mrs. G. M. Randall, cloth sweaters; and Mrs. Matt B. Jones, auditor.

Although having become a branch of the A. F. F. W. in January, the Newton South Allies' Relief Association.

to camp under individual and special calls.

No one who has not been in close touch with the work can form any adequate conception of the volume of labor involved in registering, classifying and inducting the registrants, and in the innumerable details incidental to the business of every Local Board. To perform this work without the assistance of volunteer helpers would have been a physical impossibility, and assistance has been rendered by the citizens of Newton with a willingness and efficiency which merits this grateful acknowledgment by the Board.

FINE RECEPTION

Over 2000 Greet Capt. Henry D. Cormerais at the State Armory

Over two thousand people were present last evening at the State Armory in West Newton to honor (Captain Henry D. Cormerais the former commander of Company C. Fifth Regiment, who has lately returned from service in France.

The affair was arranged by the Newton Committee on Public Safety and clearly indicated that the people of Newton have a deep and abiding interest in the boys from this city across the seas.

The Constabulary band furnished popular music as the people were assembling and the community singing thruout the evening was in charge of of the War Community Camp service.

General James G. White was the first speaker and in a few eloquent words presented Mr. William F. Garcelon, president of the Newton Committee on Public Safety so the chairman of the evening.

Mr. Garcelon made a brief statement of the work of the Public Safety Committee was the best of its kind in the state. He mentioned a few branches of the work, saying that the tit community was proud of the Newton Comstitute was the best of its kind in the state. He mentioned a few branches of the work, saying that the tit community was proud of the Newton Constabulary which he believed should be kept alive as a social-semi military body ready for any work which

DEATH OF MRS. ALLEN

Mrs. Grace Mason (Weston) Allen died Saturday morning at her home, 35 Lenox street, West Newton, at the age of seventy-eight years. Mrs. Allen was born at New Braintree, September 5, 1840, and was the daughter of John 'Granger Weston and Adeline Augusta Tidd Weston. She was descended from Edmund Weston, who came from London in 1835 and settled in Duxbury, and her early ancestors were George Soule and Richard Warren of the Mayflower party. She was married to Walter Allen October 9, 1866. At the time of his death several years ago he was editorial writer for the Boston Herald, and earlier in his career had been associated with the old Boston Advertiser, Mrs. Allen was a member of the Mayflower Society and the D. A. R.

Her surviving family consists of two sons, J. Weston Allen, a representative in the Legislature from Newton, and Commander Walter H. Allen, U. S. N., and three daughters, Grace Weston Hollis, wife of Dr. F. S. Hollis of Charlton; Abbie Allen Eaton, wife of John N. Eaton of West Newton, and Alice M. Allen, director of physical training at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John N. Eaton of Lenox road, Monday afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. George T. Smart. Burial was at Newton cemetery.

Dear Mother:—
"No," I'm not in a Red Cross host bull the list annual Dinner Wednesday evening, at Louis'. This was in accordance the hummed this from that very excellent society, without which we would be in need of many things. A word about the American Red Cross. You probably tried to imagine the use to which those "dressings" would be put. I won't try to tell you how they are used, but those very ones you made are saving boys' lives every day here. The Red Cross hospitals you know about them getting up near the front when we are going in or coming out, and handing out hot chocolate, or coffee, or chocolate bars, or a smoke, and everyone will swear that it saved his life absolutely. Your knitting cannot be sent to me, but you give any knitting go do to the Red Cross, and someone will get it who needs it. Others do the same, and I'll get socks, sweaters, and all I need. Enough cannot be said in praise of the Red Cross, from one who knows.

COPLEY THEATRE—As a holiday entertainment, "The Private Secretary," could not be bettered. It will be continued by the Henry Jewett Players at the Copley Theatre for a second week, beginning next Monday cyening. During the past week this lively and merry farce, as written by Charles Hawtrey, the eminent English actor, has repeated the success that is its reward wherever and whenever it is it has been played in practically every civilized country the globe around, and nowhere is it more welcome than in Boston. The usual matinees will be given on Tuesday, Trursday and Saturday of the worlds and nowhere will be given on Tuesday, Trursday and Saturday of the worlds around and nowhere will be a special holiday afternoon performance on Christmas Day.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE— Harry Lauder, who has been aptly called "the World's greatest individual entertainer," will be at the Boston Opera Houser, will be at pleasant surprise to his multitude of admirers, for there has been a prevalent belief that this past mass ter of homely song characterization would not be seen in the United States again, owing to his well-known desire to retire. Having yielded, however, to insistent demands for another visit to Australia, where his former tour was interrupted by the war, he has arranged with William Morris, his American manager, to play a few dates en route to the Antipodes.

PROCES

PROCES The taxpayers of this city should thoroly understand the real situation in regard to making our school houses safe from fire. Following the Peabody fire of some two years ago, the city appointed an excellent commission to look over our school buildings and recommend what should be done to make them safe from fire. The head of that Commission was Mr. C. M. Goddard, for over 30 years secretary of the New England Fire Insurance Exchange and undoubtedly the best posted man in the state on fire conditions. On their report the city promptly voted over $50,000 all of which has been expended on practically the lines suggested by that Commission. A i-rege part of this money was used in the installation of sprinklers in the basement of every school building, a form of fire protection universally recognized as of the first rank. In the meantime, the state police acting under regulations, authorized by statute, had inspected our school buildings and had formulated certain ideas as to what should be done in the way of fire protection. Unfortunately, the state police takes but little stock in the effectiveness of sprinklers, notwithstanding the testimony of experts on fire protection, and at the present time are insisting that in addition to what the city has already done, it shall expend something over $50,000 more, the greater part of which is for the placing of fire doors, or smoke doors, in the corridors of our school buildings. In brief, the

From statements expressed at the last meeting of the aldermen it is evident that the school authorities are either lacking in supervision or in control over the janitors employed by them. The report of the Fire Hazard Commission two years ago showed an alarming condition of affairs as regards a fire menace, and one which should have been merely mentioned to have been immediately righted. It is evident, however, that fire hazard conditions have not greatly improved and public opinion should be immediately exerted to force the school committee to take steps to actually supervise these conditions. Fire doors are of little use when tied back with rope or string and oily rags should have a proper receptacle. The aldermen have asked the school committee to appoint a janitor-in-chief for this purpose and this is a possible way to remedy conditions but the best solution will probably be along the lines suggested by Alderman Harriman, and to change our charter so that the school committee tharge of the school buildsuggested by Alderman Harriman, and to change our charter so that the school committee shall have full and complete charge of the school buildings and not divide responsibility, as at present, with the Public Buildings Commissioner. But whatever is done there should be an immediate demand that every possible fire menace to the lives of our children should be immediately removed by the school committee.

It is with the greatest reluctance that we have to announce that the price of the Gráphic will be increased to $2.50 a year, or six cents a copy beginning with January 1, 1919. The publishers have been able the past two years to take care of a large increase in he cost of newspaper and the increase in postage rates, besides a slight addition in the cost of printing, but a recent heavy increase in printing costs amounting to 25% is more than our financial resources can stand and must be passed on to our readers. We hope that this increase is but temporary and that with the hope for lowered costs of the future we can return to the present price of two dollars.

CLEE CLUB CONCERT

On Monday evening, December 23, at 8 o'clock, the Chorus of the Auburndate Woman's Club will give its annual concert in the Lasell Gymnasium. The Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, has worked up a very attractive program, to which is added violin number by Mrs. Julia Pickard Stoessel, and a plano group by Miss Edna Stoessel. The fine artistry of both these soloists is well known. There could be no better way to begin the observance of the holiday season than by attending this concert.

SYMPATHY APPRECIATED

The thoughtful sympathy and the many kindnesses of their friends durmany kindnesses of their friends dur-ing the recent illness and death of Miss Natalie Tracy are deeply appre-ciated and gratefully acknowledged by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Tracy and Miss Dorls M. Tracy.

Dr. Butler, who was for many years a resident of Newton Centre, was the founder of Methodist missions in both India and Mexico. The memorial is one of numerous projects contemplated in New England's share in the great centenery celebration of the founding of Methodist missions, involving the raising and expending of $85,000,000 during a period of five years.

The site of the memorial comprises 11 3-4 acres on Mutiny Ridge, from which place Dr. Butler saw the mutineers driven out by the British in 1857. It will be sufficiently large to accommodate a large church, a mission hall, boarding school for boys and with the book of Providence, R. I.

Dr. Butler is the author of "From Boston to Bareilly," published in 1886, which gives a masterly description of conditions in India at that time.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Thurber and Miss Clementina Butler, both of Providence, R. I.

When our last rulers-the Japanese-met our small-footed women . . . along such a path they never stepped aside to let the woman pass by . . . An Englishman, on the contrary, whether mounted or on foot, always leaves the road to the woman. He will walk deliberately into a deep snowdrift rather than let a Chinese woman step off the dry path. We have come to understand that the men of your honorable country all act in the same way, and this is what we like about English-men."

WHY THEY ARE "DOUGHBOYS"

Origin of Nickname Applied to United

The term "doughboy" as a nickname for the American infantryman is a very old one, dating back to the Mexi-can war of 1846. In that year the United States regular soldiers first made acquaintanceship with the houses of mud-colored, sun-dried nouses of mud-colored, sun-dried bricks that are seen everywhere, even today, in New Mexico, Arizona and the southern part of California. These bricks are called by the Mexi-can adobes (pronounced "dobles"), a can adobes (pronounced "dooles"), a term also applied to the small, squat, flat-roofed houses built with them. When the American invaders en-tered what was then Mexican terri-tory, the infantrymen found these dwellings—mostly deserted by their panic-stricken inhabitants—handy as panic-stricken inhabitants—handy as billets, and promptly occupied them as such. But the cavalrymen, who had to be near their picketed horses out on the open prairie, were unable to avail themselves of similar accommo-

Partly in envy, and partly in good-natured chaff, these christened their more fortunate comrades "dobie dodg-ers," afterwards shortened to "dobies," a good, round-sounding nickname that was bound to stick, and which in course of time became corrupted into

"doughboys."

John Burroughs' Rabbit.

In July the woodchuck was forgotten in our interest in a little gray rabbit which we found nearly famished, writes John Burroughs. It was sosmall that it could sit in the hollow of one's hand. . . We had to force the milk into its mouth. But in a day or two it began to revive, and would lap the milk eagerly. Soon it took to grass and clover, and then to nibbling sweet apples and early pears. nibbling sweet apples and early pears. It grew rapidly, and was one of the softest and most harmless-looking pets. I had ever seen. For a month or more the little rabbit was the only company I had, and it helped beguile the time immensely. In coming in from the field or from my work, I seldom failed to bring it a handful of red clover blossoms, of which it became very fond. One day it fell slyly to licking my hand, and I discovered it wanted salt. I would then moisten my fingers, dip them into the salt, and offer them to the rabbit. How rapidly the delicate little tongue would play upon them, darting out to the right and left of the large front incisors, the siender paws being pressed against my hand as if to detain it.

Tri-Color Not of Equal Proportion. It is evident from the appearance of the French flag as a pictorial decoration that many artists are unaware that the tri-color does not consist of the three colors, blue, white and red, in equal proportion. When the famous flag was adopted in the year that gave the United States its Constitution, 1789, it was complained that due to an optical illusion, the white, in the middle, looked narrower at a distance, on a optical illusion, the white, in the middle, looked narrower at a distance, than the blue, which is next to the staff, and that the red, on the fly end of the flag, looked narrower than the white. After numerous experiments, the proportions of the colors were ordered to be, as they are now, "in every 100 parts, blue to be 30, white, 33 and red 37."

Ladies Shave in Japan.

There are many things the Japanese do differently from ourselves. For instance, ladies sit with their hands folded palms upward in Japan. They all shave. They never brush therhair, but only comb it. For the English "a thimbleful" the Japaneses speak of the took, the Japaneses speak of putting the fire through it. A man never wheels his wife good morning first—a truly oriental touch. She greets him and he replies. A woman never speaks of the husband as such. She speaks of "the house."

Chamberlin Metal Weather Strips

FOR WINDOWS AND DOORS

The biggest part of the heat loss at windows and doors is caused by leakage of air between the sash and the frame. When you stop this leakage, you stop actual heat loss. Windows and doors require an interlocking equipment to keep out the incoming cold draughts and dust; and to prevent the heat from escaping.

CHAMBERLIN equipment holds them so they cannot rattle, and extends the life of the sash to the maximum.

SHORTHAND

The Historical Setting and events leading up to the time of Isalah were presented by Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb at the meeting of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands held with Miss Adelaide R. Webster on Monday afternoon. Miss Cobb called attention to the fact that Greece was still in its in infancy, that Rome had not yet emerged at the time the book was written, but that there was at Nineveh a high state of civilization and cultivation. She told of the archeological work which has disclosed the site of the ancient city, of the great library with its tablets revealing much concerning the splendor of those times, dating back, scholars think, 6000 years. The study of the book itself will be taken up at the next meeting.

gave a very instructive talk on "The Near East and the World War," illustrated by stereopticon.

Dr. Andrew's talk suggested certain lines of thought which may be followed up by those who are interested. "Turkey in the World War" by Ellot was highly recommended for reading. Since America has more or less to do with certain issues of the war one must know some things about the part of Europe which centres around. Constantinople. Many phases were touched upon, and emphasis was placed upon the fact that these countries must have the oversight of some country willing to take the responsibility.

A short business meeting followed the lecture.

At the next meeting of the club. Monday afternoon, December 30, there will be an illustrated lecture on "The Use of Animals in Modern Warfare." by Mr. Ernest H. Baynes.

Mrs. Margaret Deland, who has recently returned from Europe, gave an intensely interesting talk at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild on Tuesday, December 17. She cited instances of cruelties perpetrated by the Germans of which she had actual knowledge. Instances which the natural humaneness of Allied soldiers would lead them to remedy only to meet their own death by a hidden bomb. Such using of the moral impulse for the destruction of humanity, she said, kills the soul. Though she spoke without outward emotion she has aparently been strongly stirred spiritually by the experiences through which she has passed. As a result of the war the whole world has laid itself under obligation to take an entirely new view of life, she said.

A very lage number were present, and the donations of jellies for the Newton Hospital were very generous. Tea was served by the Hospital committee. At the business meeting it was announced that $275 was netted for the Y. M. C. A. from the play given early in the month.

Four short papers by members on the Island Republic of the West In « sand some of the Central American countries comprised the program of study for the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning and proved highly enlightening as well as full of interest. Where American capital and enterprise and supervision by the United States have taken a hand there seems to have been the greatest prosperity and the greatest promise for the future. Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins described Cuba and told of the struggles through which its people have gone until it at last emerged as a republic. Mrs. H. H. Fitts in a clear, concise manner pictured vividly the conditions through which Haiti and the Dominican Republic have struggled and the present promise of a successful future now before them, under the protection of the United States. Mrs. W. H. Capen told of the wealth of products of Nicaragua, its healthful climate, with a temperature ranging from 70 to 85 degrees at all times of the year, saying that it needed but some of the energy of those who landed at Plymouth to render it a wonderfully prosperous ountry

Mrs. H. A. Nealley told of Guaterender it a wonderfully prosperous country

Mrs. H. A. Nealley told of Guatemala and Honduras, they, too, possessing a wealth of possibilities in their natural resources. Already, she said, American merchants are beginning to awake to the possibilities of trade with these countries.

The people of all these nations are mostly of mixed races and nowhere does there seem to be anything of the color line distinction that obtains in the United States.

LIEUT. RAYMOND SAFE

Lieut. Robert Raymond, Jr., of Newton Centre, of the 27th Aero Squadron, who was captured July 16 at Chateau-Thierry, has arrived safely and in good health at Berne, Switzerland. He was prisoner in several German camps, and was last at Fuerstin-feldbrueck. He arrived with two other officers of the air service, who reported that their pilot, Lieut. Foster Morris, was killed. After the smash Lieut. Morrris, though dving, spoke up saying, "You there? It was my fault that we smashed. Hope you are not hurt." Lieutenant Raymond is the son of Judge Robert F. Raymond of the Superior Court.

I also acknowledge various loans of chairs, tables, heaters, desks, electric fans, chests, flag and the splendid gift in the shape of a receipted bill for screens and doors. I thank all who have given time, labor, money or material for our unit. It is with a thank ful heart to you all that I say it has been splendid to have the opportunity to work for you and with you for this branch of the work of the American Red Cross.

Mr. H. H. Kendall then spoke of how Newton Centre first started Red Cross Work, and the first to have a house of its own. A committee was appointed to collect funds and this necessitated a treasurer. Mr. J. Bartlett Melcher was appointed and reported up to date money received from monthly contributions and gifts, $12, 971.22, Expenditures $12,508.55, leaving a balance of $462.67. Mr. C. E. Kelsey, chairman of the Newton Red Cross spoke of the great result of this work; it has brought about a spirit of tuedemocracy among the people, also how ready Newton has been to meet all demands, never without material to work with aud never failed to fill any quota, and also ready to help others.

Up to this time Newton has been a branch. Under this new organization a committee has been appointed to act on all business and to elect officers for the coming year. NEWTON WELFARE BUREAU

The Helping Hand to Misfortune and Need—Annual Report

The Newton Welfare Bureau had its annual meeting Friday night at the Newton Club. Robert J. Fuller, supervisor of advisement and training for the Federal Board of Vocational Education, gave an address on "The Work of Rehabilitation for Disabled Soldiers." George Angier, who presided, was re-elected president for the ensuing year, and A. P. Cotter and Mrs. Bertram E. Taylor were chosen vice-presidents, and J. F. Lothrop, treasurer.

The annual report is as follows:—
To the Newton Welfare Bureau, as to many other organizations, the war has brought many changes and adjustments, and yet, so long as we have sickness, feeble-mindedness, drunkenness, poor housing, lack of proper recreation, and other community evils, there will be, as formerly, the same problems to solve. Of the 506 families known to the Bureau in 1917-1918, 116 were new to us this year. They were brought to our attention because of illness, death of the bread-winner, describing, unemployment, and for many other reasons. The able-bodied man out of work is rarely known to us, though we know several men not able to earn a living wage because of some organic trouble. Wages have not increased in proportion to the rise in prices of food, shoes, and clothing.

NEWTON 25 YEARS AGO Mrs. Bertram E. Taylor were chosen vice-presidents, and J. F. Lothrop, treasurer.

The annual report is as follows:—

To the Newton Welfare Bureau, as to many other organizations, the war has brought many changes and adjustments, and yet, so long as we have sickness, feeble-mindedness, drunkenness, poor housing, lack of proper recreation, and other community evils, there will be, as formerly, the same problems to solve. Of the 506 families known to the Bureau in 1917-1918, 116 were new to us this year. They were brought to our attention because of illness, death of the bread-winner, desertion, unemployment, and formany other reasons. The able-bodied man out of work is rarely known to us, though we know several men not able to earn a living wage because of some organic trouble. Wages have not increased in proportion to the rise in prices of food, shoes, and clothing. Therefore, there are many families with seven and eight, or even more children with just one wage-earner, who are struggling to make ends meet. These families require the closest oversight and guidance of a friendly visitor who advises how to plan the budget, who watches out for the health of the children, who encourages the mother so that she will not fail under her burden, and who performs other services that only the person in closest, intimate touch with the family, can.

A report of our work would not be complete without mention of the work of the Red Cross Home Service Section. More than a year ago the families of men in the service were coming to our atetation. Up to July of this year, the Public Safety Committee paid for any material relief given, and the secretary of the Bureau helped the committee plan for the families. The number of families grew so rapidly that for the last few months the work has taken more than fifty per cent. of our time, and in July it was found necessary to employ another paid worker to carry on this work, which is kept distinct from that of the Welfare Bureau, but is supervised by the secretary of the Bureau, and the

To IMPROVE LIVING CONDITIONS

Dec. 16, 1918
To the Editor of the Newton Graphic,
Sir:—
The Board of Health has established a new bureau to be known as the Bureau of Service and Sanitation. There will be a nurse attached to the Bureau who has had training in public health nursing and settlement work.

BOTTLED HEALTH

Nobscot Spring Water is so pure and soft that to drink it is like drinking bottled health.

Analysis shows residue on evaporation only 3.8 parts per 100,000, and rating for hardness only 1.7 parts per 100,000. That's why Nobscot means better digestion, less rheumatism, for those who drink it.

SERGT .- MAJ. MCINTYRE WRITES RED CROSS DRIVE Some of the Hardships of a Soldier's Life IS AT ITS HIGHT

12 November, 1918.

Dear Mother:—
Two letters arrived from you five days ago, the night before we moved. Since then I have had no chance to write, the going having been so strenuous compared to life in oru little village that I don't know whether my account of it will pass the censor or not Perhaps now that the armistice, thank God! has been signed, he won't be so strict.

understand there will be a skeleton organization of which I and just a few others will remain members.

Bill Corrigan (Regimental Postal Sergeent) is the only one of the whole lot left now, all the other men with whom I have been associated are scattered far and wide. The way things have turned out, I am certainly longing for home. I did not celebrate the signing of the armistice as no friends of mine were with me to join in a party, but I was overjoyed by it just the same. As to how soon we'll get back, who can say? It may be three months, it months, a year. But didn't the finish come quickly, and didn't Foch handle the thing splendidly? It is certainly a splendid victory, and the presence of so many Americans in France, even though a large proportion of them did no fighting, helped a lot to speed the breakdown of the Germans in morale.

Well. I have no doubt the people at home are a lot happier these days. It is wonderful to think that the curse on humanity is over, that there'll be no more bloodshed, and gradually we will get back to a normal existence.

ALFRED.

Wenderful Support Everywhere Be-ing Accorded to Membership

The Christmas Roll Call of the Am-charge.

Under the system of organization that is being followed in most of the New England chapters and branches, the first portion of this week was de-voted to more or less of a house-to-house, a store-to-store campaign in order that none might escape being asked to join, and to pay his dollar. Just as soon as it had been felt that Just as soon as it had been felt that the personal canvass was completed the bars were thrown down so that today and for the rest of the cam-paign, which ends on Monday night, there is promiscuous and very general solicitation for membership. There is, however, one and one very certain way to prevent a person from being way to prevent a person from being repeatedly asked, in his tours about town, to "Join the Red Cross. And that means is by exposing his or her button conspicuously upon the outer garment. The slegan of today, hegs and everywhere, is "Show your Red Cross button." The fellow who has

RED CROSS SL ACE TLAU .. JST POPULAN

Of the many in patriotism and su port that have been prepared duard displayed consumers, probably none has nad a wider circulation or has been not not not carefully quarded than the lag. It was a full welve month ago, luring the member hip drive of 1918, that these service flags were given by the sindicating his description.

there are pretty sure to be a number of inquiries from present and prospective members as to the immediate intentions of the Red Cross in the matter of furnishing relief in Germany and Austria. It can be authoritatively stated that the Red Cross is not going into Germany and Austria, excepting to care for our own troops them is for no other reason than here. here, if for no other reason than be-cause the United States government has ruled that the American Red Cross cannot, at this time, extend relief to the residents of those coun-

To most people this announcement is hardly necessary, especially when it is borne in mind the tremendous amount of work already planned for the Red Cross. There are our own soldiers, first and foremost, both in this country and overseas, who will require and receive this great organization's first thought and care. Then ization's first thought and care. Then there is an almost limitless work of succor to be performed, in many different ways, for our Allies, for their soldiers, and for their returning prisoners, and for the refugees.

The American Red Cross will, of course—for that is the wish of the American people—follow the Stars and Stripes. But it will follow that and Stripes. But it will follow that flag only to continue its work of al-leviating suffering and of making comfortable those who have been fighting for the causes for which this country entered the war.

ESTABLISH MODEL FARMS IN FRANCE

A model farm has been established by the American Red Cross at Cour-bet, for it has been found that farm work is one of the very best means of hastening the recovery of those men suffering from shell shock. One farm of 500 acres has been laid out in the department of Irdre et-Loire that is planned and is to be manage? after the methods pursued in our ow great farming regions of the West.
Since these farms will be worked almost entirely by the convalescent soldiers and those made unfit for active service, the expense of mainte nance will be very little. But the saving of luman life will be enormous. And every farmer is this country who enrolls in the Christmas Red Cross Roll Call will be helping indirectly to carry on thireconstruction work among the mutilated soldiers in France.

—An Auburndale gentleman trying to cross a Boston street a few days after the last snow storm, when snow, mud, and water, were blended for the occasion, saw coming at a furious speed, an army quartermaster's auto truck, he watched intently until it was opposite where he stood, when it passed through a mud hole almost covering him with the mixture, he is a tall man and never wears an overcoat so his business suit was a sight. Joseph's coat of many colors was no comparison. He stood, looked, thought, and felt like—as General Sherman said war is. PLYMOUTH THEATRE—Frederic and Fanny Hatton's famous fun and fashion success, "Lombardi, Ltd." with Leo Carillo and the entire original New York cast is one of the interesting new attractions coming to Boston. This comedy will be presented at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, next week, be ginning Monday, December 23rd. The Hattons have provided the native stage with many comedy successes during recent years, but "Lombardi, Ltd." has unquestionably proved the best comedy effort of these prolific writers. In the title role Leo Carillo was credited with one of the biggest personal successes scored on a New York stage in recent years.

CAROL SINGERS CELEBRATE XMAS

But Community Tree Celebrations Nearly Spoiled by Rain

The Christmas celebrations were carried out with a great deal of spirit this year in spite of unfavorable weather. Many fine Christmas programs were presented in the churches on Sunday and Christmas day. The coming of peace helped people to enter into the celebration with enthusiasm. Many young people were at home from school for the holidays, and many soldiers and sailors were entertained here, including a party from Common wealth Pier.

The Highland Glee Club arranged a carol singing party that made an extended tour of the city Christmas morning, and sang the carols with splendid effectiveness. The party started at 5.45 in four large limousines and included 30 men. They were accompanied with four trumpeters. They first sang at Highland Square, then at Lake street, Commonwealth avenue, at Newtonville and West Newton, including Senator Weeks' house, at Eliot and elsewhere. At Newton H.Jspital they were received with such enthusiasm that they had to sing eight times. Finally they stood on the highest elevation, and directed their voices and the bugles over the open land of the Woodland Golf Club with a very fine effect. The sound carried for miles. here, including a party from Common-wealth Pier.

At first it looked rather an arduous proposition for the club to make this early start. Many were up late the such a heart welcome, they felt well rewarded for their effort. The children rushed to the windows in grean out from their houses in unconventional costumes, and a lot of enthusiasm was shown. Mr. F. S. Fairchild, presented a brilliant appear of the music committee, and Mr. Almon J. Fairbanks directed the singing. A very pleasing feature was the hot coffee and eatables provided by Mr. W. P. Cannot Take Trusteeship of Boston Elevated Prof. William Z. Ripley of Brace-bridge road, Newton Centre, who was nominated on Wednesday by Governor McCall for a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway Co. and immediately confirmed by the Executive Council has notified the Governor that he is unable to accept the appointment.

The following statement of the matter has been issued from the Governor's office:

"The governor has been notified by Professor Ripley that, on account of the multiplicity of duties that he has in Washington and elsewhere, he cannot accept the appointment as trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway Company. It was clearly understood by me, when speaking for the governor, that Professor Ripley would accept the appointment, and his name was sent to the council on the basis of that understanding. It has now developed that Professor Ripley did not intend to commit himself finally until after consultation with others. In view of this situation, the governor has no other course than to withdraw Professor Ripley's name from the council."

BIG POST OFFICE RUSH

More Mail Matter Handled Than Ever Before in Newton

In spite of all that has been said urging people to send off Christmas packages early, the rush at the post offices was as strenuous as ever. At the Newton post office there was a mo on Monday, and the post office people called the situation "firece." Tuesday it was was not so bad. Christmas packages and cards are still coming in by every mail. The Christmas business her is called the biggest ever known.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Personality

The funeral of Mr. Joseph Foster of Highland street, West Newton, occurred Tuesday afternoon at the St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands, where Mr. Foster had been a regular and loyal attendant for many years.

At the time of his death last Sunday, Mr. Foster was a few monthspast his 87th birthday. He had been nearly a life-long resident of West. Newton. He was born at the Lower Falls where his father had been apaper and paper board manufacturer when the Lower Falls was one of the chief paper manufacturing centers of the country.

Mr. Foster's mother was Harriet Durant, daughter of Thomas Durant, who built and was one of the first wardens of St. Mary's Church of Lower Falls. This Thomas Durant, Newton's representative at the Continential Congress, and Ann Jackson, the great granddaughter of old Deacon John Jackson, Newton's first settler.

Mr. Foster spent his youth at Lower Falls working in his father's paper mill. Later he entered business for himself in Boston, retiring about 25

MAKE AN AIR-POCKET WITH WINDOW SHADE

IT KEEPS OUT THE COLD.

There has come to light the nove fact that a window shade will not only keep out the light, but will keep out the cold!

Unreasonable, you say? Not at all.

Not at all.

A glass window, while it effectively keeps out the wind, allows considerable radiation of the heat from a room through the single thickness of the pane. In very cold countries double windows are the rule.

No matter how thin the window shade, if it is pulled down and held snugly against the casement, it forms an air pocket which insulates the warm room from the cold outside the warm room from the cold outside the same way as does the air space of the doubte window.

For that reason, in cold weather, pull your window shades down at night. If the curtains or hangings do not hold the shades close to the casement, pin the shades. It is not necessary to seal the shades tight against the casement, but merely to have them hang close enough so that the air will not circulate too freely.

HUNGER DRAWS THE MAP

A food map of Europe today shows not a single country in which the future does not hold threat of serious difficulties and only a small part which is not rapidly approaching the famine point. With the exception of the Ukraine only those countries which have maintained marine commerce have sufficient food supplies to meet actual needs until next harvest, and even in the Ukraine, with stores necumulated on the farms, there is famine in the large centers of population.

Belgium and northern France, as well as Serbia, appear on the hunger map distinct from the rest of Europe because they stand in a different relation from the other nations to the peeple of the United States. America has for four years maintained the small war rations of Belgium and northern France and is already making special efforts to care for their increased after-thewar needs, which, with those of Serbia, must be included in this plan, are urgent in the extreme and must have immediate relief.

The gratitude of the Belgian nation for the help America has extended to her during the war constitutes the strongest appeal for us to continue our work there. RED CROSS HAS A NUBLE TAJK AHEAD

Maj. Gen. Edwards Just Back From the Front Cites Cases in a Signed Article.

BY MAJ. GEN. CLARENCE R. EDWARDS. Commander Department of Northcast,

The Red Cross has a great work ahead of it, a very great work, a no-ble work. We don't yet realize how wounded boys are here, and better still in a year from now, when we have seen them with our own eyes and have heard their stories.

The work that the Red Cross has done in France has been great and When we arrived there we were in terrible need of tents and blankets. When we had done our best there was still need. Then the best there was still need. Then the Red Cross stepped in, without any useless red tape, and found us the tents and the blankets, and saw to it that our New England boys were kept comfortable. That means a great deal to a boy when he is three thou-sand miles away from home, and cold and wet. The Red Cross will be busy in France and Belgium for a long ame yet, with the people in the devastated regions and with our own boys. But the work that I can't help thinking of most, the work dearest to me, is that which will be absolutely necessary for our boys here and for their families right in our midst.

Every day I get scores of letters from the relatives of our boys. Some of them are most pathetic—they take a hold on my heart. They come from the mothers of our boys, mothers who do not know where their boys are, and who are sick with worry, mothers who know that their boys have been wounded but wish to learn more about them, to ease their terrible anxiety, mothers who wish to know when their dead boys will be sent Letters come from widows whose only sons are in the army in France and who are dependent on these sons.

These mothers are sometimes in great need of financial aid, and they are afraid that their government al-lotments will not arrive in time. They need money for food and for rent. Here is a letter from a widow whose son has been wounded and is now in the hospital in another state. He cannot yet be discharged, but he is er only support, and she writes to tell me ner needs because unless help omes she is going to suffer.

Last year these mothers were sending boxes at Thanksgiving time to their boys. This year many of them are waiting, while they weep, for the terrible box that will bring the body of the dear son home to them. These mothers are the rightful care of the Red Cross, and what a work it can lo for them.

On our boat coming home were 186 rippled men, coming back to make their way again. Another boat started the same day with as many more. Some of those boys have only one arm, some have only one leg, some will not see their mother's face bacause they are blind. What is going to become of those boys who have goen all that they could? Many of norm cannot hold their 'd places of work. Where will they find new ones? No nobler work can be done than for the led Cross to see to it that they are made comfortable, that Where will they find they are looked after until they are settled again. And they must not come back to homes that have been uprooted while they were away. The Red Cross can make them most hap-py by having their homes safe for them, and their mothers and sisters well

One of the best the about the Red Cross is that it has no red tape. It goes straight to the heart of things at once, and wastes no time. Its help is sure and quick, and that means everything. I hope that the Red Cross can see to it that no man shall be found, a year from now, with here again.

The Red Cross has a great and a very noble task ahead.

The varied character of the supplies which the American Red Cross provides for American soldiers and sailors is shown in the following list of articles furnished in one recent month to our fighting men in Great Britain: 30.000 sweaters, 30.000 toothbrushes, 50.000 pairs of socks, 32,600 pounds of soap, 306,000 boxes of matches, 800 baseball outfits, 560 mouth organs, 144,000 packages of chewing gum, £,000,000 cligareties. For handling these supplies, the Red Cross has seven warehouses in England and six in Ireland. If necessary, 6,000 ship wrecked Americans could be outfitted from head to foot at one time from these emergency depots. Advance wrocked Americans could be outsitted from head to foot at one time from these emergency depots. Advance arrangements have also been made for billeting, housing and feeding any number of men who might unexpectedly be landed at ports where there are no British military camps.

EDITORIAL

The subject of a proper and adequate memorial for the boys who have made the great sacrifice in the war just closed is worthy of careful attention. There can be no doubt but what the people will demand that every memorial shall be a local affair. We want to honor our own dead and not become a part of a great but rather impersonal memorial erected by the state or nation. Suggestions of trees or schools or streets also fail to meet the swelling hearts of the community and it is evident that only the best will meet the popular demand. Let us suggest in this connection that a new City Hall might be the proper solution for Newton. We surely need such a structure, we have the land already given by the generous citizens of West Newton, and if such a building could have within it something like the beautiful and impressive Hall of Flags at the statehouse, it would be a most fitting place to enroll the names and the records of our honored dead.

of our honored dead.

We must again remind our subscribers and readers that the price of the GRAPHIC will be $2.50 a year or six cents a single copy, beginning next Wednesday. As we have already explained this is due to heavy increases in the cost of production which we are unable to bear alone and must pass on to our patrons. We also hope that these prices will be but temporary and that we can return to the old figure in 1920. Until January 1st, 1579, we will renew for $2.00 any subscription, no matter when it expires, for another year.

It is rumored that the financial consistion of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company is quite serious and that a large part of its present service may be discontinued. The city government should dally with this city government should dally with this matter no longer but give a prompt decision on the question of making a contribution under the legislation of last year. Those who do not use the tines of the railway cannot appreciate the tremendous inconvenience which will follow the stoppage of the street car service. Immediate action is received.

While the year just closing has been full of terrible happenings, most of us can forgive most of its delinquencies on account of the wonderful day, November 11th. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to those, who while rejoicing in part for the close of the greatest war in history, still long "for rejoicing in part for the close of the greatest war in history, still long "for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still." They should endeavor to console themselves with the wonderful thought so well expressed by the poet—
"Tis because they dared to die
"That the flags of freedom fly."

The declination of Prof. William Ripley of the office of a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway Company is to be commended. The serious finan cial condition of that Company and it great importance as a public utility to this vicinity is such that only the strongest and most practical busine men should be placed in charge of its affairs. With all due respect to Pro-fessor Ripley, whom we esteem highly, the Elevated trusteeship is no place for a college professor.

Good bye, 1918.

If life in the New Hebrides can b itive instinct, it is none the less gov erned by an elaborate ritual of tribal ceremony, by the powerful influence of taboo, by customs as rigid and impreg-nable as the towering forest fastness. That the old are buried alive is as right and orderly to the truculent sav age as that night follows day, or that a warrior dies by the hand of his enemy if he does not first speed his own ar-row. Against this barrier of dark faiths and unprobed certainties, the wanderer from the West, with his trou-bled vision and ever-restless feet. bled vision and ever-restless feet throws up for himself but a flimsy counter-illusion of civilization. Let him take away pearls, tortoise shell, beche de mer, copra, sandalwood, or perhaps a hu-man cargo destined for the great labor markets East and West, leaving it their place the cheap product of factories, or, better still, secretly, gun and ammunition. The chances are that one day his fate will find him out, And if the time should come when he re-turns no more to that same civiliza-tion which betrayed him in an ultimate need to the savages of an obscur island whose only costume is a neck lace, his geath will merely cancel an outstanding account.—Gertrude Emer-son in Asia Magazine.

"That piece of woodland is a peopled city, throbbing with life, busy from morning until hight. It contains their homes and families, they have built and live helpless creatures." And out of tha incident, simple but impressive as was, Mr. Harris drew inspiration for one of the most graphic pictures in all literature.—H. E. Harman, in the South Atlantic Quarterly.

Music Is a Moral Law.

There is an intense need for art, and above all for music in the daily live of our people, and it is through the public schools that the musical resources of the younger generation, at present lying dormant, must be awakened.

Why should our girls and boys being why should our give and only and educated to be good business men and women be denied development of all higher intellectual and moral side of their natures? It is here that must most directly exerts its influence. T quote the words of Plato: "Music is a moral law. It is the essence of order and leads to all that is good, just and beautiful."

Most people imagine milestones to be quite ancient institutions. They are not so really. The first mile-stones to be erected in England were set up on the Cambridge road between Barkway and Cambridge in 1727, and Brett, Ponca, Okla., Ellen F., wife of the late Albert F. Thayer, formerly of Newton.

SYMPATHY APPRECIATED

The thoughtful sympathy and the many kindnesses of their friends during the lilness and death of their beloved son, Henry Cutter, are deeply appreciated and gratefully acknowledged by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cutler and family.

Barkway and Cambridge in 1727, and it was not until 40 years later that their use became at all general. True there are two "milestones," so called, that bear the date 1700, still standing—one at Tadcaster, and the other near Withington, Herefordshire. But those do not give the distances to the places graven upon them, being, in effect, therefore, merely stone sign-posts.

"Don't you keep a diary?" asked Billers, placing his daily record back in

"If I keep a diary I lose it," replied
Wilbur paradoxically, "and to keep a

Good Yield on Sod Land.

An instructive and practically useful account of how a third of an acre of pasture land two miles from the center of Leeds, Yorkshire, England, was made to provide food sufficien fully to maintain three men for a year is published by the board of agricul ture from the pen of A. G. Ruston of the University of Leeds.

The land had been under grass for at least 50 years, when last year it was divided into plots and planted with potatoes by Mr. Bedford, former lord mayor of the city, and some of his friends. The crop aggregated three tons sixteen hundredweight, which is at the rate of 11.4 per acre, as compared with 6.7 tons per acre, which was the average for the farm crops of Great Britain last year.

A Massif.

The war continues to enrich our vocabulary. News from France that the allies have captured the entire "massif" of Lassigny will cause another searching of dictionaries, by which it will be revealed that a massif is a mountainous group of connecting heights, sometimes isolated and son times forming part of a larger moun-tain system, more or less clearly marked off by valleys. The word is French in origin, but has been adopted without change by English and American geologists and physical geographers.—Oregonian.

Engineering Pays.

Basing conclusions upon the incometax returns, the best-paying profession in the United States is that of engimeering. It excels even that of law, which long held the record, and is far ahead of those of theology and medicine. The reason for this is not difficult to find. This is a constructive age, even though the war would seem to contradict such an assertion. After the war, when reconstruction generally sets in, the engineers bid fair to be come a class of plutocrats.-Christian Science Monitor.

Fast Construction.
A record for hospital building that A record for hospital building that is likely to last for a long time was made recently on work for the war department at Staten Island, N. Y. The building, a one-story frame structure with every modern convenience, was put up in just 10 hours and 28 minutes from the time work started, at seven o'clock in the morning. The hospital is 150 feet long and 24 feet wide, with a 10½-foot porch the entire length of the building on one side.

One Experience Enough for Mr. Young Boche Airman Really Deserved Better Luck.

> As It Was, the Youth Probably Only tisement by Being Made a Prisoner of War.

Although he was a boche we admired his audacity. He came hum-ming out of the summer blue on a sultry afternoon, swooping from no-where right in the inner guard of half a dozen of our unsuspecting kite bal-loons. Swift and straight as a falcon ons. Swift and straight as a factor dived, and at the rattle of his ma chine gun and the flash of his tracer bullets pigmy figures strangely agitated came bobbing and gyrating earthward under their spreading para-was making tracks for home.

The "Archies" had been taken by surprise. For a moment it looked as surprise. For a moment it looked as if the unwelcome visitor would reach his lines. But suddenly the "Archies" ceased firing, and it was then we saw a British plane pursuing at a pace that could only have one result. The German "side-stepped" twice by in-tention and once involuntarily. He smashed into a cottage like a goat but ting through a fence, his propellers going through the thatched roof and his rudder cocking up in the air. The solitary pilot was pitched into a cor the long orchard, little th worse for his fall. He was a small , rather mean-looking young man he blinked stupidly at the re mains of what had once been an air plane. A little dog barked at him, half a dozen fussy hens scolded him, and a very angry and very determined old lady came out of the cottage to investigate him.

She was a typical Flemish dame massive of build, tenacious in character and practical in all things. Delib erately and of set purpose she ad-vanced on the dazed airman. She caught him by the collar of his tunic She shook her fist in his face, and sh asked him in the incisive vernacula of the Flemish peasant what ordered him to look at the mess he had made, calculated the cost and de manded payment, all in a breath. She heaped insults on him, his parents and cautiously away.

As he retired the old woman advanced, and I am convinced that but for the prompt arrival of a guard of grinning Tommies she would have spanked that unhappy Teuton youth.

Never did a man surrender so engerly, When he and his escort had de-parted the dame "shooed" away the hens and then industriously picked up the assorted fragments of the airplan for firewood.-Montreal Herald.

Probably no more unique donation has ever been made for the amuse ment of soldiers than one of $50 re-cently given by a charitably disposed lady for gramophone records to equip

Other donations which have come to light from time to time have not lacked an element of the picturesque, as, for instance, the supplying of a hospital in Paris which was filled with African troops with 700 fans. They were so appreciated during the sum mer months that the hospital appealed for more. Not long ago a French offi cer issued an appeal for games for his men. In one regiment in which most of the soldiers were fathers of families the preference was for bowling. The trench does not make a bad

Cub Bear Caused Excitement.

A cub bear, about ten months old caused much excitement at Moose caused much excitement at Moose Lake, Minn., the other day when it walked into town and scratched at the back door of a local restaurant. The cook thought it was the owner's dog. Her discovery that it was not began a series of activities in the kitchen which could have been equaled only by the bursting of a high explosive shell. When the cause of the disturbance was learned the men of the town formed an escort and drove the cub back to its haunts. Bears are pro-tected by law and for that reason it was not killed.

ley has recovered from his first shock of astonishment—for it is no less—at the supreme beauty of the valley, in-evitably he wonders how nature made it. However did it happen that walls so enormous rose so nearly perpendicular from so level a floor?

It will not lessen wonder to learn that it was water which cut most of this deep valley in the solid granite.
Originally the Merced river flowed practically at the level of the canyon top. How long it took its waters, normous in volume then, no o scrape with tools of sand this valutary streams sloping even sharply from their levels until event ually they poured over brinks as glant waterfalls.

But geologists have determined, by unering fact, that the river did by far the most of the work, and that the great glacier which followed the water ages afterward did little more than square its corners and steepen its cliffs. It may have increased the depth from 700 to 1,000 feet, not more.

During the uncountable years since he glaciers vanished, erosion has again marvelously used its chisel. With the lessening of the Merced's volume, the effect was to amazingly carve and decorate the walls.

Hawaiian Kinga Utilized Bodies of Slaves or Enemies to Lure Monsters of the Ocean.

In the days of Hawaiian kings, every part of the bone and skin of a shark was supposed to confer unflinch ling bravery upon the possessor. Wherefore, shark-fishing was then a regal sport. In those days, the bait much in vogue was the human body—either the body of a slave or of someone against whom the royal personage had taken a sudden dislike, according

The person chosen to act as bait, was killed, cut up, placed in a calabash, and allowed to mellow for a few days. The mellowing process consummated, the bait was lashed to the summated, the bart was inshed to the outrigger of the royal canoe in such a manner as to leave behind a dripping trail of blood and oil. Upon reaching the fishing grounds, the balt was unlashed. Large hooks fashioned from wood or bone, were then "bait-ed" and lowered over-side. Historians tell us that great skill and courage were shown by the members of the royal party on such occasions in the roping and landing of the captured

The first ascension in a balloon filled with hydrogen was made in 1783 by M. Charles and M. Robert at Paris and the following year Doctor of Edinburgh announced that a thir bladder filled with this gas ascend into the air. Cavello experi-mented along these lines and found that a bladder was too heavy, paper not air-tight, but that soap filled with gas rose to the ceiling of the room. The first successful bal-loon was made by the Montgolfier brothers, in France, in 1782. It was a fire balleon, inflated with hot air from burning paper. The Montgolfler suc-cess led M. Charles to experiment with hydrogen gas, and with M. Robert he traveled 3: miles in a hydrogen baloon fitted with a safety valve. In 1785 Blanchard, the first professional aeronaut, with Dr. John Jeffries of Boston, crossed the English channel. Military balloons were used at the bat-tle of Solferino in 1859 and by the federal army during the Civil war near Washington in 1861.

If we take our days and reduce them to the essentials we shall find that there are many real things to do, need-ful things to do, and we shall go about these tasks quietly and earnest'y, not expressing our energies through a hundred trifles, but through true effort, properly directed, doing whatever our hands and hearts and minds find to do, nobly and well.

28 Brook str., Newton, More nate people safe for the world that the Red Cross must work with great-er zeal than ever. But nearer home. In Boston a woman was found whose husband had been fighting for your flag and mine in France. Her landlord had turned ber out of his house, she had flad with her three children to a cellar, and in that cellar her twin babies were born. One died! And when the Red Cross found her, able to speak only two or three words of English, only two or three words of English, overlooked by the government in the terrible rush of business, she had kept her dead baby for a week, wrapped in an old newspaper.

But help in time of war is not all. Far from it! It is only a step from the temporary relief to wounds and hunger in the war of guns to the permanent help in the war to live in peace. The world is eagerly turning to the Red Cross to make it healthy and strong and happy in the broadest and strong and happy in the broadest meaning of those words. And until disease is forever gone the Red Cross cannot cease its work. Remember Halifax—what might that awful disaster not have become without the help of the Red Cross? Remember the 10,519 people killed, the 201,333 people injured, in train ac-cidents in this country in the year When sweeper brush bristies become soft from long use and do not sweep up little to many of the 201,333 might lay blint as well as when stiff, put a little common baking soda in some hot water; take the brush out of the sweeper and dip it up and down in this. ending December 31, 1916. But for the Red Cross many of the 201,333 might have died. Accidents are with us yet; fires will sweep our cities, explosions will blow up munitions plants, epidemics like the influenza will carry off their eighty thousand victims, tidal waves will sweep in as upon Quebec the other day—and then in the thickest of the horror the world will look for—and find—the love of the Great Mother, the unspeakable ending December 31, 1916. But for the the Great Mother, the unspeakable comfort of the Red Cross. Two great thoughts are in the mind of the Red Cross. It aims at tempor-part them. There was real bravery in this simple act; for, in early days, tomatoes were thought to be rank polson. that background of love and kind-ness and friendship without which war will sweep us again and again, but with which we shall in time have but with which we shall in time have a world of peace and safety. And shall the Red Cross lay aside its work, thon? Never! The giving must continue as long as God givos to you; the loving must go on as long as humanity lives. Whatever cles may pass, the Red Cross is allve forevermore!

The new secretary of the Welfare Bureau submits a slight revision of the figures relative to the number of families with which the Bureau had to do in the year just closed as they were given in the report printed last week. They should read: "Of the 515 families known to the Bureau, 337 were active in 1917-1918. One hundred and twenty-five were new to us this year." This is an increase of nine families over the figures first given.

BOTTLED HEALTH

Nobscot Spring Water is so pure and soft that to drink it is like drinking bottled health.

Analysis shows residue on evaporation only 3.8 parts 100,000, and rating for hardness only 1.7 parts per 100,000. That's why Nobscot means better digestion, less rheumatism, for those who drink it.

WORD HAS VARIED MEANING LIGHT FARMING CURES

Term "Garden," as Used Today, Capa-ble of Some of the Most Elastic Definitions.

"garden," assuming that there is some well-defined common use of that word even among the authorities on garden-ing subjects. But the fact is that it has reached mighty elastic limits in their writings and speech and can be taken to mean anything from the enor-mous private parks and estates to the tin can glories of a back yard.

The word garden is from the old Anglo-Saxon root, "gyrden," meaning an inclosure. At that time, due to the uncertain character of community life, it was either inclosed within fortifications or left unprotected and exposed without. This private inclosed land was the garden of that time. That is the meaning of garden in the Song of Gradually the sense of the word has

HOME BUILT AROUND ICEBOX

Nature Kindly Furnished Cold Storage Facilities for Landowner in Western Montana.

The owner of a plot of ground in western Montana discovered on his property a well which emitted a constant current of cold air, which in hot test summer was about 35 degrees Fahtest summer was about 35 degrees ran-renheit, the temperature of scienti-fically regulated refrigerators. With a business eye to economizing in ice he decided to build a house in such a posishelves and receptacles for storing perishable goods.

His next step was to build a store nearby, with an underground pipe con-necting the well with a room in the basement of the store. Here he planned to keep perishable merchandise. The pipe led up into the store, also. It was provided with a damper so that it could be opened or shut in order to regulate the temperature of the room. In this way electric current for operating fans in hot weather was saved.

At the opening in the pipe the force of air current is sufficient to sweep a man's hat from his head. No satisfacman's nat from his head. No satisfac-tory explanation of the current has been found. In winter the air is warm-er than the outside atmosphere and prevents the stored articles from freezing.—Popular Science Monthly.

It comes as a surprise, very often, to find how far back in the centuries some of the ordinary things of everysome of the ordinary things of every-day life cast their roots. It may not be generally realized that double-en-try bookkeeping, for instance, adopt-ed in most large businesses of the modern world, originated, or if it did not originate, was practiced, among the mercantile communities of Italy in the fifteenth century. An early ex-ponent of the method was a Minorite monk named Luca De Burgo, other-wise Paciloi, who wrote and published a treatise on the subject in Venice in a treatise on the subject in venice in the year 1494, three years before Se-bastian Cabot landed in America. The system survives as Luca De Burgo es-tablished it, with the exception of the tablished it, with the exception of the few alterations necessitated by four centuries of commercial evolution. Still Mr. Evans or some one else tells strange stories of bookkeeping by dou-ble entry in the palace accounts of Knossus, twelve centuries before the Christian era.—Christian Science Mon-

Bought Island Cheap.

Bought Island Cheap.
There is a good story telling how the captain of a British warship came into possession of a small island near the New Hebrides. The captain was in search of a place to hold the annual prize firing, but the only suitable location was on a small island in Southwest how. This was tribal property west bay. This was tribal property and, as the natives had been taught to fear the power of big guns they insisted that they should be paid for the Island, as it would likely be destroyed. The negotiations ended in a chief going off to the ship, and it was agreed that the commander of the warship. Town Has Long History. Mannheim isn't an old town. The village that preceded it dated back a vininge that preceded it dated asck a thousand years, but the real Mann-heim has just entered its fourth cen-tury. It was founded by Protestant refugees from Holland, who gave it a strongly fortified castle and brought no end of trouble on the place. During the Thirty Years' war that castle and the town were taken and retaken no less than five times. In 1794 it was in the hands of the French and then the Austrian army bombarded it so severely that scarcely a building was left unharmed. In 1803 a grand duke had the fortifications razed and Mann-helm became an open town.

uritans Held That Men Had No Right to Interfere With Dispensa-tions of Providence.

Having last night heard that Josiah Willard had cut off his hair (a very full head of hair) and put on a Wigg, I went to him this morning. Told his Mother what I came about, and she called him. I enquired of him what Extremity had forced him to put off ging memory of beauty; to keep our paperclation of human nature, we must refuse to be laid on the shelf; we must keep up with the procession of human thought. Only so can we see the sweat, the tears and smiles of our fellow-creatures.

"These are the two tasks of middle age; if we perform them worthly our souls will nover grow old. And, plainty, it is 'up to us' as these slangy whether we can oring our minute to be contented at his finding; or whether we would be our own Carvers, Lords, and come no more to him. Pray'd him to read the Tenth Chapter of the Third Book of Colvin's Institutions.

Third Book of Colvin's Institutions.
... Told him that it was condemned by a Meeting of Ministers at Northampton in Mr. Stoddard's house when the said Josiah was there. . . . He seem'd to say would leave off his Wigg when his hair was grown. I spake to his father of it a day or two after; he thanked me that had discursed his Son, and told me that when his hair was grown to cover his ears he promised to leave off his ears he promised to leave off his Wigg. If he had known of it, would have forbidden him. His Mother heard him talk of it; but was afraid positively to forbid him lest he should do it, and so be more faulty.—From Judge Sewall's Diary (quoted in "The Heart of the Puritans").

DENIED EQUALITY OF SEXES

den in 1813 Had Decided Views as to Sphere of Duty.

There lies on the desk a book published and sold by Moses Thomas, lished and sold by Moses Thomas, Philadelphia, bearing the date of 1813, which makes it one hundred and five years old. There are many strange things in that book, which contains "Selections From Foreign Reviews and Magazines," all of which is claimed to be "the best thought of the ablest men of the age." There is an essay at-tacking a French authoress who was claiming an equality of intellect of the two sexes. The reviewer remarks: "Upon the whole, we do not think that a little learning is always a dangerous thing in a lady, so long as it has ref-erence to her condition of life and the sphere of her duties.

That is as far as the world had got at that time in the education of wom en. About seventy years afterward, when a woman became senior wrangler at Oxford, which is the highest honor in mathematics, there began a change of opinion concerning the quality of

It was maintained in the entire period by these "ablest men of the age," that the "female intellect" was entirely inferior to that of men, and that her physical structure made it impossible for her to comprehend the great questions, such as that of war. Since then a woman has written the greatest war hymn of the world.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Nerve and Eye Strain.

Many nervous as well as other dis-eases are caused by incorrect illumination. The eye is a subject of prime consideration in connection with our health and happiness. Eye fatigue spoils the disposition; as that is one of the conditions given for inefficient work, we find here again a reduction In efficiency and a cause for more loss of the workman's time. The first loss was mechanical, the second is phys-ical; both, when reduced to a dollarand-cents basis, show a large percent-age over the cost of lighting that would be required to eliminate them. As judgment is dependent upon per ception, and perception upon the sight then the laborer, to be efficient, must be able to see fine details and small objects at close range with sharpness and distinction, to distinguish objects at a distance with accuracy, and to have clear perception of all objects in the intermediate space.

Famous Forth Bridge.
Sir John Fowler and Sir Benjamin
Baker, both Englishmen, were the engineers who designed the great Forth bridge in Scotland, and the building was done by several large firms of steel structural workers, under their supervision. The outside length of the bridge is 8,098 feet, the central cantilever occupies 1,620 feet, and the wo side cantilevers 1,514% feet each. two side cantilevers 1,514% feet each. The headway of the bridge at high water is 150 feet. The bridge was 17 years in building and was opened in March, 1890. The Forth bridge is much narrower than the Brooklyn bridge, but it exceeds it 25 feet in span and is considerably longer in its gant thing there is. If you possibly can, buy a dozen bars at a time. Cu it up at once into one and one-hali it up at once into one and ene-half inch thick blocks. Store these in a very dry, rather warm cupboard, pillagthem up after the fashion of a child building bricks, i. e., so that they practically do not touch each other. They will then dry and harden right through, and while the cleansing power of the soap will be in no way di minished it will last twice as long.

If earache does not occur often pos-sibly home treatment will alleviate the suffering, which is always so seven while it lasts. Wring out hot cloths and apply them to the car. This often brings quick relief. Or moisten a small piece of cotton, saturated with sweet oil or laudanum and place it carefully in the ear. This is generally the hardening of the wax.

Owl Stopped Wheels of Industry. The curious combination of an ov and a steel trap in which the bird had become caught and flown away, trap and all, alighting on a high-powered clearic cable carrying 11,000 volts of electricity to run a mill at Goodyear, Conn., stopped the power and threw several hundred men out of work for several hours. Linemen, after several hours' search, located the owl, burned to a cinder.
